THE BOSTON CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC was founded in 1867 by the eminent musician, Julius Eichberg, who was graduated from the Conservatory at Brussels with first prizes in violin and composition. After serving for many years as professor at the Geneva Conservatory, he came to Boston in 1859 to become director of the Museum Concerts, which post he held until 1866. Mr. Eichberg was widely known as a composer of chamber music, studies, songs, and operettas. Under his leadership the Conservatory gained high standing among the leading music schools, attracting students from all parts of the country. Following Mr. Eichberg's death the Conservatory carried on under the guidance of Herman P. Chelius, pianist and organist of distinction.

The Conservatory was first incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts in 1896. After several unsettled years, during which time reorganizations were effected (1905, 1914, 1920), Agide Jacchia, an honor graduate of the Conservatory of Pesaro, became director in 1920. Mr. Jacchia was a favorite pupil of Mascagni in composition and conducting, and immediately following his graduation he entered upon a brilliant career as conductor. In 1907 he came to America where he held positions as musical director of opera companies in the United States, Canada, Central America, and Mexico, and for ten years (1917-1926) as conductor of the "Pops" concerts of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Mr. Jacchia continued as director of the school until his death in 1932.

Since 1933, the executive and educational policies of the Conservatory have been formulated and administered by a board of trustees and an advisory board of artistic directors. The faculty is composed of musicians and teachers of distinction who are capable of inspiring their students with a love and desire for the best in musical art. The courses offered cover all branches of music and at the same time include a broad academic program.

The Boston Conservatory is operated as a non-profit-making institution under a charter of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and is fully accredited for the conferring of degrees. The Conservatory has for many years been approved by the United States Government for the training of non-quota foreign students.

For sixteen years the school was located on Huntington Avenue, opposite Symphony Hall. In 1936, it acquired its present buildings which are admirably located in "The Fenway," one of Boston's most beautiful park systems, and are easily accessible by all means of transportation. While removed from the noise and confusion of the business district and in a quiet location conducive to good study, the Conservatory is within ten minutes' walking distance from the leading concert halls, including Symphony Hall, and the Boston Opera House. Also in the immediate vicinity are churches representing all the leading denominations, the Boston Public Library which contains one of the largest musical reference libraries in the country, and the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, located opposite the Conservatory in The Fenway.

Whether preparing for a professional career, or studying as an avocation, the student finds in Boston opportunities for the enhancement of his musical and general culture, which are unequalled anywhere in the United States. The concerts of the internationally famous Boston Symphony Orchestra and other orchestras, chamber music concerts, opera performances, recitals of local and visiting artists are invaluable in broadening the student's knowledge of musical literature, developing his critical faculties, and imbuing him with an appreciation of the highest standards in music and its performance.

General Information

ADMISSION

Any person is eligible to apply for admission as a student without restriction of nationality, race, or creed.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT: No previous training in music is required for admission to the Preparatory Department, and students of all ages may be accepted. Applicants, who have had training, are classified upon entrance, according to their grade of advancement.

DEGREE AND DIPLOMA COURSES: Application for admission to the degree or diploma course must be made on a special form provided by the Conservatory. Information obtained by means of the application and other confidential reports must satisfy the director of admissions that the candidate is fully qualified to pursue the Freshman year work. An official transcript of high school record must accompany the application, or be presented upon entrance, showing that the candidate has graduated having completed a minimum of fifteen units as follows:

English	3 units
*Languages (1 unit may be Latin)	3 units
Mathematics (Algebra, Geometry or Trigonometry)	2 units
History and Civics	1 unit
Sciences	1 unit
Electives (of the electives 3 units may be in music)	5 units

Total15 units

Applicants of exceptional ability who are deficient in the academic entrance requirements may be accepted, providing such deficiency can be removed during the first year of study.

CERTIFICATE COURSE: There are no specific academic requirements for admission to the certificate course, but a high school education or equivalent is recommended. Upon entrance, candidates must give evidence by examination in their major subject (voice or instrument) of their ability to pursue the course. Application for admission to the certificate course may be made on a special form which will be sent upon request.

ADVANCED STANDING: Students desiring to transfer from accredited institutions should have a transcript of record sent to the Conservatory in advance of the opening session. An evaluation of the credits in theoretical and academic subjects will be made and advanced standing determined accordingly. Advanced standing in applied music (voice or instrument) can be obtained by examination upon entrance only.

Students who have not studied in an accredited school may be admitted to advanced standing by passing special comprehensive examinations in their subjects. In no case will such examinations minimize the number of credits that must be earned for the degree or diploma.

SPECIAL STUDENTS: A Special Student, not being an aspirant for the degree, diploma, or certificate, may enter at any time and elect any subject for which he is qualified, the minimum enrollment being for a term of ten weekly private lessons. A Special Student may transfer to the degree, diploma, or certificate course at any time providing he meets the academic and all other requirements; in effecting such a transfer, credit will be given for any subjects required in his course which have been completed previously in the Conservatory.

* French, German, Italian, Spanish.

THE SEMESTER HOUR

The basis of credit is the semester hour unit. A semester hour in applied music (voice or instrument) is granted for three hours a week of practice during one semester, plus the necessary individual or class instruction. A semester hour in theoretical, historical, or academic subjects is granted for one class lesson and two hours study per week.

DEGREES, DIPLOMAS and CERTIFICATES

Students may major in either of the following subjects leading to the degree or diploma; Voice, Organ, Pianoforte, Violin, Viola, Violoncello, Contrabass, (other orchestral instruments), Composition, and Public School Music.

The degree of Bachelor of Music is conferred upon students who have completed the required four-year course with a minimum of one hundred twenty semester hours credit. Thirty semester hours must be earned in resident study.

The Conservatory Diploma is conferred upon students who have completed the required four-year course with a minimum of one hundred four semester hours credit. Twenty-six semester hours must be earned in resident study. The degree and diploma courses are identical, with the exception that fewer academic subjects are required in the diploma course.

The Certificate is awarded to students who have completed the prescribed three-year course of study with a major in applied music (voice, pianoforte, organ, or an orchestral instrument) and the following supplementary subjects:

Pianoforte (if not the major subject), two years; solfeggio; harmony; keyboard harmony; analysis; terminology and musicography; history of music; dramatic art; attendance at choir and orchestra.

Candidates for the degree or diploma with a major in applied music must give a recital in their Senior year and submit a thesis on an appropriate subject.

EXAMINATIONS

All students pursuing courses leading to graduation are required to take the examinations given at the end of each semester. Preparatory and Special Students must take the examinations if they wish an official record kept of work completed. Students whose records are unsatisfactory will not be admitted to the examinations.

The method of marking is as follows: A, excellent; B, good; C, fair; D, conditioned; E, failure. To graduate with honors a student must maintain an average grade of B or better throughout his course.

PRACTICE ACCOMMODATIONS

Practice rooms are available in the Conservatory at moderate fees. Pianoforte practice may be obtained at rates ranging from $4 to $10 per month, depending upon the number of daily hours and the instrument. Organ practice rates are 25, 40 and 50 cents per hour. Woodwind and brass instruments may be rented at the rate of $2 per month, and up.

EVENING INSTRUCTION

The Conservatory is open evenings for the convenience and benefit of those who are unable to attend during the day. Instruction in all subjects (vocal, instrumental and theoretical) is available with regular faculty members.

SUMMER INSTRUCTION

Instruction in the various subjects offered at the Conservatory is available during the summer from June 15 to September 15. Credit towards the degree, diploma, or certificate requirements may be obtained by summer study. Summer work, when pursued in addition to the regular school-year course, offers to students the opportunity of continuing their studies uninterruptedly and thereby accelerating the completion of their courses.

The regular summer term of six weeks begins about July first of each year.

SCHOLARSHIPS

The following scholarships afford financial assistance for a limited number of students who show evidence of exceptional ability and are unable to pay the costs of tuition. Scholarships awarded to students are continued to the end of their courses, provided that they are availing themselves to the full measure of their advantage. The amount of each award is determined by the financial status of the student.

THE SEVCIK SCHOLARSHIP. A fund established for the aid of one or more deserving violin students by the distinguished violin pedagogue, the late Professor Otakar Sevcik, during his visit to America (1931-32) as guest teacher of the corporation.

BLANCHE B. PARKER FUND. The income of a bequest of twenty-five hundred dollars under the will of the late Blanche B. Parker to be used for the assistance of one or more women students of voice.

ALBERT ALPHIN SCHOLARSHIP. The income from five thousand dollars providing assistance for one or more students of pianoforte.

DEPARTMENTAL SCHOLARSHIPS. These scholarships are sponsored by faculty members and are available to students of composition, voice, organ, pianoforte and orchestral instruments.

CONSERVATORY SCHOLARSHIPS. The amount available annually for these scholarships is determined by the income and operating expenses of the previous year.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

The financial problem is, of course, the most serious one which students of limited means have to solve, but this need not discourage the person of talent and ability who is desirous of a musical career. However, any student who contemplates studying in Boston is strongly advised not to come without provision for at least one semester's maintenance and tuition. During this time if one has ability and industry he should be able to establish such connections as will add considerably to his resources and make possible the succeeding years of study.

The Conservatory gives part-time employment to its quota of students under the National Youth Administration.

RECITALS, CONCERTS, ART EXHIBITIONS

RECITAL CLASSES: These classes are held frequently and give the students of the various departments an opportunity, upon recommendation of their teachers, to perform before members of the faculty and other students of the class. (Not open to the public.)

STUDENTS' RECITALS: Throughout the school-year recitals are given by advanced students and those performing most commendably in the recital classes. Being open to the public, these recitals give students an opportunity to gain poise and experience so necessary to their development.

FACULTY RECITALS: Each year a series of faculty recitals is given. These are open to the students without charge, and to the public, upon invitation.

CONCERTS: A number of concerts by the Conservatory Orchestra, chorus, ensembles, and other groups is given during the school-year. Members of the faculty, advanced students, and guest artists frequently appear on these programs.

ART EXHIBITIONS: During the season of 1937-38 the Conservatory inaugurated the practice of sponsoring monthly art exhibitions. The exhibits represent both the old and modern school and include oil and water color paintings, lithographs, and drawings by distinguished New England artists.

RESIDENCE

The Boston Conservatory of Music desires to serve the interest of all its students in every way and to give them the benefit of personal advice and friendly assistance wherever possible. Students who are strangers to Boston will be met at their trains if notice is sent to the Conservatory of their time of arrival.

The Conservatory residence for women students is located adjacent to the school overlooking beautiful Fenway Park. All rooms are completely furnished with the exception that occupants are expected to supply their own blankets. There are, also, desirable accommodations for a limited number of students in the Conservatory Building.

It is expected that the students will conduct themselves properly at all times. Freedom, consistent with the best interests of the school and the students themselves, is extended to all subject to any restrictions parents or guardians may wish to impose in individual cases.

Room reservation should be made as soon as the student is notified that his application for admission has been accepted. A reservation implies that the student will occupy the room throughout the school-year.

The rates for room and meals (only breakfast and dinner served on Sundays) are:

Single Room	$12 to $17 per week
Double Room	$12 to $14 per week

The Secretary also has a list of rooms available in carefully supervised private homes for men and for women at rates ranging from $5 to $8 per week. Personal assistance will gladly be given to students on their arrival, in selecting such accommodations.

The Conservatory does not approve of girls living in unchaperoned apartments.

* Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Music with School Music as a major are required to pursue subjects in applied music in such a way that at the end of the course they will be able to:

(1) pass a comprehensive pianoforte examination on the material as outlined in Part II of the Preparatory pianoforte course, playing at least four compositions from memory by the composers mentioned; also pass a test in sight playing of pianoforte accompaniments, equivalent in difficulty to that of standard school music material;

(2) pass a voice examination demonstrating a thorough knowledge of the fundamentals of voice production, and the ability to sing with a pleasing voice and accurate intonation;

(3) pass an examination in the playing of an orchestral instrument (minimum of four semester hours' credit required).

Description of Subjects

SOLFEGGIO

SOLFEGGIO I: Elementary Theory: Notes, rests, clefs, time signatures. Diatonic, chromatic, and whole-tone scales; Intervals; Dynamics; Ornaments. Bona Method: Rhythmical articulation in G and F clefs. Jacchia: Ear-training, Book I; Dannhauser: Books I and II (Sight-singing). Rhythmic and melodic dictation.

Two hours weekly; credit, two hours each semester.

SOLFEGGIO II: Bona Method: Rhythmical articulation in all clefs. Dannhauser: Books II and III. Jacchia: Ear-training, Book II. Sight-singing: two, three, and four parts. Transposition. Dictation: Melodic and harmonic.

Two hours weekly; credit, two hours each semester.

HARMONY

HARMONY I: Preliminary definitions. Scales: major, minor, chromatic. Intervals and their inversions. Triads of the major and minor keys and their connection. Inversions of triads.

The dominant seventh chord and its inversions. Simple modulation.

Two hours weekly; credit, two hours each semester.

HARMONY II: The seventh chord on the leading-tone and the diminished seventh chord. Secondary seventh chords; ninth chords.

Chromatically altered chords. Suspension and other non-harmonic tones. Modulation. Exercises in vocal and instrumental styles.

Two hours weekly; credit, two hours each semester.

KEYBOARD HARMONY

Prerequisite, Harmony I

A supplementary course to Second Year harmony. The playing of harmonic progressions at the keyboard in all major and minor keys. Modulation.

One hour weekly; credit, one hour each semester.

ANALYSIS

HARMONIC: Analysis of progressions involving the various chords and non-harmonic tones. Representative works from various historic periods will be analyzed for their harmonic content.

FORMAL: Phrasing: figure, motive, phrase, period. Liedforms, including prelude and etude; dance forms and the suite; marches. Variation forms. The extended forms; the rondo, sonata, overture, symphony, concerto, symphonic poem. Contrapuntal forms.

Two hours weekly; credit, two hours each semester.

COUNTERPOINT

Two hours weekly; credit, two hours each semester.

COMPOSITION

COMPOSITION I: Composition in the smaller forms for voice, pianoforte, and other instruments, supplemented by an analysis of representative works in these forms.

Two hours weekly; credit, two hours each semester.

COMPOSITION II (private instruction only): Intensive study in the larger forms: Concerto, sonata, symphony.

Credit in advanced composition is established in accordance with the amount of work taken.

To graduate in the Composition Course a student must have completed:

- (1) an orchestral work of not less than fifteen minutes in duration;
- (2) an example of sonata-form for pianoforte or for an ensemble combination;
- (3) a motet or large anthem for chorus with or without solos;
- (4) not less than five works in smaller forms—piano pieces, songs or solos for orchestra instruments.

INSTRUMENTATION

INSTRUMENTATION I: A study of the nature of the various orchestral instruments singly and in combination. Practice in making simple orchestral and band arrangements.

One hour weekly; credit, one hour each semester.

INSTRUMENTATION II (private instruction only): Scoring for orchestras, bands, and various combinations of instruments.

Credit in advanced orchestration is established in accordance with the amount of work taken.

CONDUCTING

CONDUCTING I: Baton technic; practice in score reading from the string trio and string quartet to the more difficult scores for full orchestra. Organization of the orchestra and band. The organization of choirs; classification and care of voices; problems in choral music. Study and interpretation of choral literature.

One hour weekly; credit, one hour each semester.

CONDUCTING II: The reading and analysis of more involved scores; complicated baton technic problems. Practical experience in conducting the Conservatory Orchestra and Chorus under supervision.

One hour weekly; credit, one hour each semester.

ENSEMBLE

The study and performance of classical and modern literature including sonatas, trios, quartets, quintets, and larger ensembles.

Two hours weekly; credit, one hour each semester.

ORCHESTRA

All students of the Conservatory who are sufficiently advanced in their instruments are required to attend the rehearsals and public performance of the orchestra. During the season a wide variety of the standard orchestral works are rehearsed and performed. Advanced students of the Conservatory, upon recommendation of their teachers, may rehearse concertos, arias, etc., and may be admitted to public performance.

Three hours weekly; credit, one hour each semester.

CHORAL TRAINING

This class studies a wide variety of choral works, both sacred and secular. All Conservatory students possessing good voices are eligible for membership.

Two hours weekly; credit, one hour each semester.

OPERA CLASS

This class is open only to advanced students of voice as its purpose is to give professional training in the dramatic presentation of Grand Opera. This training is of inestimable value to the concert artist as well as to the opera singer.

One hour weekly; credit, one hour each semester.

ACCOMPANYING

(Elective)

Presenting the important elements in artistic accompaniment with demonstration and supervised practice. Provides opportunity for class members to accompany conservatory students. Open to students who demonstrate adequate facility at the pianoforte.

PIANOFORTE METHODS

(Elective)

This course considers problems of teaching children and adults. It suggests ways of presenting the fundamentals of music to students, individually and in groups, with analysis of interpretation, pianoforte technic and material. Demonstration and practice teaching.

TERMINOLOGY and MUSICOGRAPHY

The vocabulary studied in Terminology is comprised of a selected list of approximately 1,000 of the more commonly used musical terms. Correct pronunciation, spelling, and usage of these terms is especially stressed. The work in Musicography is designed to give training in accurate manuscript writing with correct usage of all musical symbols and abbreviations.

One hour weekly; credit, one hour each semester.

HISTORY OF MUSIC

A general study of the history of music from its beginning to the present time. Characteristic works of the composers of the various periods and schools are discussed and illustrated by recordings, considerable attention being given to contemporary movements. The aim of the course is to enable students to appreciate the achievements of the past and to know the place of music in world history. The lectures are supplemented by outside reading and reports from the histories of Dickinson, Pratt, Ferguson, and other works.

Two hours weekly; credit, two hours each semester.

SCHOOL MUSIC

SCHOOL MUSIC I: The study of methods of presenting music in the elementary grades; materials used; detailed lesson plans for each grade; principles of time and tune and the application of these principles in individual, unison, and part singing. The training of children's voices; principles of correct tone production; treatment of monotones and conserving of the child's voice. Classroom management.

Two hours weekly; credit, two hours each semester.

SCHOOL MUSIC II: The further study of this subject as applied to junior and senior high schools; materials used; methods of teaching harmony in the high school. Public school administration as applied to the teaching of music; class organization; seating plans; discipline; methods of conducting teachers' meetings.

Two hours weekly; credit, two hours each semester.

SCHOOL MUSIC III; Chorus, Orchestra, Band. The organization of school choruses and glee clubs; methods of voice classification; instruction in the correct use of the voice for group singing; seating plans; discipline; study of suitable repertoire.

The organization of school orchestras and bands; seating arrangement; methods of conducting rehearsals; discipline; orchestra and band repertoire. The presentation of school concerts, operettas, etc. Students of this course must attend rehearsals of the Conservatory chorus and orchestra, and, when sufficiently advanced in the technic of conducting, will be required to conduct both groups.

Two hours weekly; credit, two hours each semester.

PRACTICE TEACHING I: Teaching under the direction of the supervisor in the Conservatory classroom; observation of music teaching in the public schools of Boston and vicinity; comparison and discussion of the methods used by different teachers. During the second semester students must plan to have at least one morning weekly free for visiting schools.

Credit, two hours each semester.

PRACTICE TEACHING II: A continuation of the work outlined in Practice Teaching I; actual teaching in public schools under supervision. Students must reserve two days weekly for observation and teaching; and one hour weekly, for reports and discussion at the Conservatory classroom.

Credit, two hours each semester.

MUSIC APPRECIATION METHODS: Detailed lesson plans for the presentation and teaching of music appreciation in the elementary, junior, and senior high school grades.

Two hours weekly; credit, two hours each semester.

INSTRUMENTAL CLASS METHODS: Instrumental class teaching; methods and materials used; technical problems involved in playing the various instruments; organization of the school classes; observation of instrumental class teaching in the schools of Boston and vicinity.

One hour weekly; credit, one hour each semester.

DRAMATIC ART

A special one-year course designed to supplement the training of regular Conservatory students by supplying a very necessary stage presence and by teaching the formal routine and etiquette of the concert stage. The course includes practical training in acting, and general stage craft. Plans for directing plays, concerts and other entertainments are discussed.

One hour weekly; credit, one hour each semester.

THEATRE ARTS

An intensive two-year course designed to give students a thorough professional training in the entire work of the theatre—acting, production, scenic design and painting, costume and stage craft. The courses of study seek always to combine the practical with the academic, and to make the instruction a living, interesting experience, rather than a stilted textbook curriculum. In pursuance of this policy the department employs the laboratory-workshop method of instruction where actual problems are worked out by the students in informal session.

Five hours weekly, not including rehearsals.

A Certificate will be awarded upon completion of the two-year course.

DANCING

This course includes thorough training in both the traditional and modern forms of the dance. Gymnastics of the dance; technic; rhythmic studies; analysis and study of dances (group and solo); character dancing; pantomime. Improvisation; intensive work in dance composition.

The work for children includes rhythmic studies and exercises, solo and group dances.

Students may register for one, two or more class hours weekly.

LANGUAGES and ACADEMIC SUBJECTS

ENGLISH

ENGLISH I (Composition)

Review of grammatical principles; composition—written and oral; collateral reading.

Three hours weekly; credit, three hours each semester.

ENGLISH II (Literature)

A survey of English literature from its beginning to the present day; discussion of contemporary writers; collateral reading.

Three hours weekly; credit, three hours each semester.

MODERN LANGUAGES

ITALIAN, FRENCH or GERMAN I

Grammar, dictation, oral and written translation; reading of easy prose and poetry; practice in speaking and writing.

Two hours weekly; credit, two hours each semester.

ITALIAN, FRENCH or GERMAN II

Grammar, composition and dictation continued; reading of more difficult text; free composition and practice in conversation.

Two hours weekly; credit, two hours each semester.

ADVANCED COURSES in English or in Modern Languages may be elected by students who have completed Grades I and II or their equivalent. Credit is granted in accordance with the amount of work taken.

PSYCHOLOGY

The course deals primarily with the more modern developments in psychology. The theories of Freud, Adler, and Jung in regard to the development of the emotional life are discussed. The theory of intelligence tests beginning with the work of Binet, and with some reference to the practical significance of such tests from the teacher's standpoint is discussed. While the course is particularly designed for those students who intend to teach later, emphasis is also given to those aspects of modern psychology which are of use to the community as a whole, so that it is of interest and value to the general student.

Two hours weekly; credit, two hours each semester.

EUROPEAN HISTORY

A general survey of European history from the Roman Empire to the Peace of 1919, with special emphasis on the periods of the Renaissance, the Reformation, and the Seventeenth Century. Collateral reading and written reports.

Two hours weekly; credit, two hours each semester.

HISTORY and PRINCIPLES of EDUCATION

This course traces the developments in educational theory and practice through the years, and acquaints the students with the underlying principles, nature, and objectives of education. Special emphasis is given to present day issues and trends in this field. Lectures, discussions, and assigned readings.

Three hours weekly; credit, three hours each semester.

FINE ARTS

A general and comparative survey of the beginning and development of the art impulse in all of its various expressions and forms; painting, sculpture, architecture, and the minor arts. This course includes collateral reading and written assignments.

Two hours weekly; credit, two hours each semester.

Preparatory Department

The Preparatory Department of the Boston Conservatory of Music is open to both children and adults who are desirous of obtaining thorough musical training in the elementary grades. All instruction is given by regular members of the faculty and their assistants. The courses are specially designed to prepare students who are desirous of qualifying for admission to the degree, diploma, or certificate courses, and to provide instruction for others who may have only an avocational interest in music and wish to participate in this form of art expression.

Instruction is offered in voice, pianoforte, and all orchestral instruments. Courses in elementary theory, harmony, sight-singing, and ear-training are also given, and must be taken by those students who are preparing for admission to the courses leading to graduation. Students, interested in drama and the dance, may refer to the respective departments elsewhere in the catalog for a description of the work offered.

The length of time required for completion of the work prescribed in the different preparatory subjects cannot accurately be estimated, as much depends upon the age, ability, and interest of the individual student, as well as the subject and number of lessons taken weekly.

For the purposes of classification and examinations, the course material used in the instrumental subjects is outlined in two parts; that of voice, one part. Instructors may, at their discretion, substitute other equivalent material to that outlined, according to the needs of the individual student.

CHILDREN'S INTRODUCTION TO MUSICAL THEORY

Using music representative of various periods throughout history, this course introduces the child to solfeggio, sight-reading, rhythm, and the construction of the scales and chords.

Regulations

All students are required to observe the regulations and to consult the Official Bulletin Board regularly; they will be held personally responsible for any consequences due to their remissness. Students living at the Conservatory residence must comply with the house rules and regulations.

A form of registration must be filled out and properly signed upon entrance by every student of the Conservatory; each student must pay a registration fee.

Students will not be accepted for fewer than ten lessons in private instruction or a minimum of one semester in class instruction.

Private lessons missed, due to unavoidable absence, will be made up providing twenty-four hours' notice has been given to the Conservatory office. Private lessons falling on holidays will be made up. All lessons that are to be made up must be taken during the current school year.

A student who is absent more than one-ninth the number of class lessons per semester in a course will be required to make up the work by private lesson appointments for which an additional fee will be charged. If the absences are authorized by the office and the instructor, the work will be made up without charge. All unauthorized absences are recorded against the student's record and will affect his rating.

Candidates for the degree, diploma, and certificate are required to do their daily practice at the Conservatory when schedules and accommodations permit. Classrooms, studios, and practice rooms must be vacated by 9:00 P. M. daily.

All lessons must be taken in the Conservatory studios and classrooms. Students are not allowed to make appointments with instructors for lessons elsewhere.

Tuition fees are payable in advance in accordance with the registration agreement. An additional charge is made for late payment. In case of dismissal or withdrawal, no money can be refunded.

All business connected with the school such as the arrangement of lesson appointments, change of day or hours for appointment, payment of tuition, etc., must be attended to directly at the office.

Tuition

When schedules and accommodations permit, each student may be given the privilege of choosing his instructor in the major subject (voice or instrument). As the rates vary with the different instructors, so the tuition charges for the semester must necessarily vary according to the instructor elected for the major subject.

The estimated fees below are for a semester of twenty weeks and include all necessary private and class instruction as outlined in the respective courses. Tuition for full course students must be paid by the semester in advance.

	Minimum	Maximum
The Degree Course	$200	$300
